FOREWORD

On February 5, 1978 Virginia Caven Jones of Marengo, Iowa, wrote to me, sending data sheets on the Caven family that she was researching and commenting that Margaret Caven Price was the "lost branch" of the Caven family. She asked if I could supply the missing data. Since Margaret Caven's descendants in Kansas had been having annual reunions at Washington, Kansas, since 1975, I, an in-law, naively and blithely assured her that I would try to do so. I didn't know what a task that would become! Now, eight years later, I have decided that I have obtained all the facts that I am apt to, but that I should get what I have collected into a form that someone else may be able to complete and authenticate them at some future time and that I should make copies and disperse them so that my work will not be erased completely should my single copy be destroyed. Some of the families with whom I have corresponded have indicated that they would like to have copies of my findings.

Along with my contacts for statistical data, some photographs have been viewed and copies made, which I feel would add interest to the data. I wish to acknowledge the courtesies of data and photos made available to me by Lois Griffing Iull, Mildred Price Schrock, Ray and Roberta O'Dell, Marilyn Crook, Betty Birch, Joan Clouse, Mattie Price Lindsten, Violet Adkins Gaemann, and others. Raymond Griffing and the O'Dells were very helpful with locating cemeteries and county records.

At the same time that I was working on the Caven-Price data, I was also on the alert for information on Leo's paternal ancestors. Little was found but I was able, with Raymond Griffing's help, to trace the Griffing family back one more generation than they seemed to be aware of before, using census records verifying that Preston H. Griffing of Bourbon County, Kentucky, was the forebear coming to Missouri in the 1840's. I am including this meager data in the same cover as that of the Caven-Price clans.

To save bulk and make it less tedious to follow, I have not included direct allusions to the records which I used for authority but have tried to give data as to where records can be found, whenever possible. I was content in many cases just to accept the word of a relative in order to get some sort of picture of the extent of Margaret Price's descendants. It remains for someone else to complete the task in true genealogical manner.

I have innovated my own compact style of arrangement to indicate the generations: 1) The raised numeral gives the number of generations of descent from John (1788-1845), the earliest ancestor that Virginia Caven Jones has been able to trace; 2) Each child of Margaret Price has been allotted a chapter, as these individuals are the special consideration of the study; 3) An outline format has been used within each chapter, following the indented "tree" form devised by Burke's Presidential Families of the United States of America, Burke's Peerage Limited, 1975; 4) the many abbreviations used are listed inside the back cover, for your reference when puzzled.

We hope the material included will be of interest and perhaps helpful to many of you. I shall be glad to answer the questions that may be aroused and I do have available negatives for quite a number of the pictures represented here as well as others. God bless you everyone!

THOMAS ALFRED³ and MELISSA(LAWRENCE) CAVEN (Virginia Caven Jones's grandfather)

Our story must necessarily begin with the obituary of John Cavin , copied from Van Buren Co., Iowa, Portrait and Biographical Album, p 314-315, and sent to this writer by Virginia Caven Jones in 1978:

"John Cavin1(1 May 1788-19 October 1845) was one of the early settlers of Van Buren County, Iowa, having in the year 1836 settled within her borders. He was born in Prince Edward County, Virginia, in 1788, and during his early manhood enlisted as a soldier in the War of 1812. Soon after the close of that struggle he went to Tennessee, where he married Miss Judah(Judith) Mann, who was a native of the Old Dominion, born in 1790. The young couple began their domestic life in Tennessee, where they remained until 1834, in which year they crossed the Father of Waters and in the Territory of Wisconsin, as it was then known, began making a home, their place of location being in Harrisburg Township, Van Buren County(Iowa). The Indians had not yet left their homes further West but were often visitors in the settlement, and rattlesnakes were unwelcome companions. The country round about abounded in wild game; wolves and other animals were killed in the vicinity of the settlement; and hardships of which we know nothing were to be borne." (Judith Mann was born 23 Mar 1790, in Virginia, and died 14 Mar 1860, married/2 Joseph Oney on 8 Mar 1853, Van Buren Co, IA.) John Cavin was buried in Halworth(Scott) Cemetery, Harrisburg Twp.,

bur Washington, KS), was a blacksmith most of his life at Washington. KS. It is supposed that he was born in Iowa, moved with his parents to the Braymer, MO area in his teen years, married there but followed the Price family to the Steele City, NE locality early in this century. Leo Griffing, his nephew, fondly remembers living in the George Price big rambling house in Washing in 1921, soon after the tragic death of their 18-year-old son Ray in a car fire. They assuaged their grief in doting on their young nephew, and he treasures a butcher knife "Uncle George" made from a cross-cut saw blade. Jennie May and Arthur lived in Ray Co, MO south of Cowgill during their early married life but they traveled west by covered wagon in 1903, searching for a better climate for their little daughter Nora, who had asthma. They were accompanied by Jennie's parents "Charley and Maggie" Price and their two youngest children Mary and "Curley." The diary of their journey is included between pp 14 and 15. They stopped at the Bill Caven home near Steele City, NE. Bill was Maggie's brother. They farmed near Steele City until 1914 when they bought a farm eight miles north of Morrowville, KS where they remained until Arthur's death in 1935. During those years their home was always open to the families of Jennie's younger brothers and sisters. These Sunday gatherings lay the groundwork for the annual Griffing-Price Reunions of the present day. Jennie left the farm in 1936, making her home with each of her children in turn, whichever one she felt could best use her loving help. Arthur and Jennie left issue,

CHAPTER 7 - THE CLARENCE EDWARD4 PRICE BRANCH

CLARENCE EDWARD4 "Curley" PRICE(5th s but 8th ch of Charles Eugene and Margaret3 Caven Price), b 1 Mar 1891, Excelsior Springs, MO, d 17 Jan 1951, Oroville, CA, bur Memorial Park cem, Oroville, CA; m 7 Sept 1909, Steele City, NE to Sylvia Ann "Syb" Troxel(b 13 Apr 1888, Kirwin, KS, d 2 Feb 1955, Oroville, CA, bur Memorial Park cem). "Curley" came to Nebraska with his parents and sister Jennie Price Griffing's family in 1903 (See Jennie's diary between pp 14 and 15). He lived with his parents until his marriage at age 18, tried farming near Steele City but was a trader at heart. In the spring of 1917 he tried homesteading in Colorado but Curley and little Mildred could not live in that altitude. By then the family was living in Endicott, NE, where he worked at various things, owned a cream station and later a restaurant. Syb was a hard worker and good manager, and the children all helped out. By 1934 both the older girls had married and migrated to the Palermo, CA area, where their husbands worked in the saw mills. Curley and Syb sold their restaurant and followed them to Palermo, where they bought a small acreage of olive trees, Syb wove rugs, and Curley traded livestock until his death. Others of the Price, Troxel, and Wells families had migrated there, and each third Sunday in July the families have a big picnic and family ball game in Sacramento, which is looked forward to by all. Curley and Syb left issue,

The above picture was marked "Grandma Price" and is believed to be JANE CAROTHERS PRICE, mother of Charles E² (1849-1912) and John W²(1855-1905) Price. Upper R: A younger brother JOE² PRICE, his wife Elvina, and their two children Violet and Glen of Guthrie, Oklahoma.

Lower left: Violet Price, age 18, with daughter Lottie Leona, age 2 years, 8 months, and Ben Savory, age 23, at the time Mattie Lindsten's father John W² Price visited them in Oklahoma. John W² appears in the background.

Compiler's Note: It has been impossible to trace this branch of our ancestors back further than 1847, when Jane Carothers of Hillsboro, Liberty Twp, Highland Co, Ohio, and WILLIAM PRICE of Virginia were married on July 22, 1847. I also found them recorded in the 1850 Census of that same locale with a one-year-old son Charles Eugene, our ancestor. Mattie Price Lindsten, Jane and William's granddaughter of St. Francis, KS, provided much valuable information, and the writer has been in correspondence with her niece-in-law Lucille Price. We hope to do some followup work on some of the clues provided by Mattie's memory. Ninety-one-year-old Mattie passed away about a year ago.

WILLIAM PRICE(1827- ??) was said, by his grandson Peter William Price(1882-1935), to have been a contemporary cousin of the Confederate General Sterling Price(1809-1867), who traced his ancestry back to John Price, an emigrant to the Jamestown Colony of 1620. At present, all that can be proven is that William Price, age 23, native of Virginia, his wife Jane Carothers Price, age 22, with their son Charles Eugene, age 1, were residents of Highland Co, Liberty Twp, Hillsboro, OH in the Census of 1850. Family legend has it that William disappeared while "freighting across the plains and only his horses were ever found." No date is mentioned, and his family seems to have grown up in southwestern Iowa.

According to Mattie Price Lindsten, he left six children,

Mattie, in her letters, continues with facts on her father John William Price: "He came to Iowa with his parents when he was 2 years old. He married Margaret M. Frain. Feb. 6, 1879, at Red Oak, Iowa, and he came to Cheyenne County, Kansas, in October 1885 (Mattie was born in 1894). The obituary said he had three brothers and a mother(Did the mother come with them? We have a picture marked "Grandma Price" which we presume to be Jane Carothers Price.) I think the brothers' names were Joe, Charles(that would be the eldest), and Mose. There were two sisters but my mother told me they died when they were young Mrs. Bill Caven (Mary Frain Caven, see Chapter 1. pp 2-3) was my mother's sister, as her maiden name was Frain. They (the Bill Cavens) lived out here in Kansas for a few years and then they went back to Nebraska near Fairbury(which is where they were when Arthur and Jennie Griffing, Charley and Maggie Price with Mary and Clarence came in 1903), and then they moved to Pleasanton, Kansas."(Later to Nevada, MO, where they died and are buried, p 2)

CHAPTER 9 - SOME DATA ON THE GRIFFING FAMILY

The Griffing family is not one to pass along much family lore, but by the help of Raymond Griffing of Cowgill, Missouri, and census records we were able to piece together enough to learn that Preston H. Griffing(1805-1879) is the earliest ancestor that we have been able to trace. There are several Griffing genealogies, some tracing that name back to Massachusetts colonies in the 1600's, and we may be able to tie in with them sometime but as yet we could find no evidence. However, we will include here a rather sketchy "tree" showing known descendants of PRESTON H1 GRIF-FING(1805-1879).

"It is clear enough that true nobility
Is not bequeathed along with property,
For many a lord's son does a deed of shame
And yet, God knows, enjoys his noble name.
But though descended from a noble house
And elders who were wise and virtuous,
If he will not follow his elders, who are dead,
But leads, himself, a shameful life instead,
He is not noble be he duke or earl.
It is the churlish deed that makes the churl."
...Chaucer*
